Dated 15th March, 2007

ORDER

Koshy,J.

These review petitions are filed to review the common judgment in W.A.Nos.545 & 546 of 2004. We have noticed that two schools were upgraded on the basis of Ext.P5 and there is no basis for discriminating some applicants who filed application at the relevant time. In any event, passing of a subsequent Government Order is not a ground for reviewing the judgment. We are of the opinion that a review petition cannot be equated to an appeal or a petition for rehearing of the matter. No grounds for review are made out. It is submitted by the review petitioner that Government has already filed a Special Leave Petition and the matter is pending in the Supreme Court. Since no grounds are made out, these review petitions are liable to be dismissed.

2. These review petitions are filed with a delay of 246 days. Absolutely no valid reasons are stated for condoning the delay in filing the review petitions, that too after filing the S.L.P. The delay condonation petitions are liable to be dismissed.

Hence, both the delay condonation petitions and review petitions are dismissed.
